NAZI MASSING TROOPS IN GREECE

NEW MARCH MAY SOON BE UNDER WAY

The War in Europe claimed major attention today when it became known that Adolph Hitler who recently assumed command of the German armies began massing troops in Greece.

Since Turkey has been brought into the lend-lease program under the Roosevelt theory of protection, it was believed that the Germans would soon march upon that country.

The drive would have two effects, one to attack all democratic powers and the other to forestall allied troops in the near east to say nothing of a march on the Suez Canal and to make the Mediterranean war a major conflict.

It was said that the Germans are building air bases in Greece within 15 minuites flight of Turkey.

The first communication from Admiral Nimitz said the American Pacific fleet is acting between Hawaii and the Philippine Islands.

It was disclosed in London today that the Royal Air Force carried out an extensive bombardment of Malta which is an Italian possession in the Mediterranean.

A major battle is raging north of Manila in the Philippines and Secretary of War Stimson said Manila will not be given up. There was a rumor that General MacArthur had been ordered to abandon his troops and to save himself. He has been made full General.

The Dutch were 3 ahead of schedule today with four Japanese transports sunk.

Japan has suffered great losses in the attack on the Philippines and in Malaya.

Cameron and Central Texas were due to get below freezing temperature by Thursday nigh according to a weather forecast made available to the Daily Herald by F. G. Blake of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company.

Cameron has had warm weather for the major part of the past 60 days. Livestock owners are warned and automobile owners to look out after their anti-freeze.

The workers want to thank the public for their generosity and for the spirit of complete co-operation that was shown. In all but a few isolated cases, the needs for this great cause were understood, and were met with whole-hearted response.

Nazi Emblem Found In Wind Charger at Farm Near Sharp

A Swastika, the flag that Adolph Hitler gave to Nazi Germany, was found painted on the fan tail of a wind charger on the August Garlisch farm near Sharp.

The wind charger containing the German emblem, is now in the office of Sheriff Valter White.

The Daily Herald was told at the office of the Sheriff that the wind charger had been taken down by members of the American Legion in Cameron and brought to the office of the Sheriff.

It is known that investigation has been made.

The Swastika is painted on the fan with white paint against a red back ground. The hook crosses are reversed.

Mr. Kelly suffered an attack at his home near the Nursery and was rushed to the hospital where he died.

Mr. Kelly suffered a heart stroke about a year ago and for many weeks was in critical condition and in the hospital for treatment. He recovered sufficiently and returned to his home.

It was during this period of several weeks in which he remained in the hospital that he was married to Miss Irma Porter of Rockdale and for many years a members of the school faculty in Cameron.

Mr. Kelly was reported to have been alone late yeasterday and immediate medical attention was provided by friends who rushed him to the hospital.

Mrs. Kelly was in Austin at the time of the attack and did not know of his death until a car was dispatched to the capital to return her to Cameron.

Mr. Kelly was a native of Tennessee, born in the city of Nashville. He had been a resident of Milam county for many years and formerly lived in Rockdale where he engaged in the Nursery business, later moving to Cameron.

Mr. Kelly was regarded as one of the best informed Nursery men in Texas and had built up a large business here, expanding his farm when he moved it to its present location on Highway 77 north of the city.

Last year Mr. and Mrs. Kelly erected a beautiful home adjoining the Nursery grounds and Mrs. Kelly retired as a member of the local school faculty.

Funeral services will be held from the home in Cameron at 2 p. m. Friday, January 2, with interment in the Cemetery at Rockdale.

Mrs. F. R. Kolba and Mrs. Sneed of North Elm and Miss Geraldine Sneed of Austin spent the week end in the F. A. Marek home.

NEW YEAR BRINGS A POLITICAL CAMPAIGN

Whatever else the New Year may promise, good or bad, it is certain to bring a political campaign from Precinct to State.

War may curtail political enthusiam and the average aspirant may feel less inclined to launch out and ask for office, thinking perhaps this is no time to disturb existing conditions, but that can hardly be expected.

Elections are held each two years, the first a city campaign will be under way with primaries in February. The general election to be held in April with all officials to be elected except three aldermen who hold over.

School trustee election is also to be held this year with three to be elected.

Then will follow the July primaries with nominations to be made for Precinct, County and State officials. The November election will close the politicial year of 1942.

DAY BY DAY

Things We Want to Say

Veteran's Hospital,
Hines, Illinois.

Mr. J. B. White,
Editor Cameron Herald.
Cameron, Texas.

Dear J. B.:

As I told you while I was at home from Dallas, that when I got up here I would tell you something about this place.

Hines is located about 12 1-2 miles west of Chicago. The hospital covers the entire post office of Hines. The main hospital is divided in sections, ABCDEFG, each section having four floors.

The building is four stories high and one half mile long. There is a long hall on the west side of the building going the entire length of the 1-2 mile. On bad days walking this is the way we get exercise. This has branches off into each section also to the recereation room, post office and canteen. In this canteen there is a store where we can buy most anything we want, including shirts, ties and underwear. Also has a tailor shop and barber shop, all of which does big business. Oh yes there is a cafe in there too.

John O'Conner is in charge of the recreation. To him goes a lot of credit for the entertainment we get. We have picture shows twice a week and other nights there is usually a show of some kind. Last week in addition to the picture shows we had the First National Bank of Chicago orchestra, including about 30 pieces and a quartet. Also the big event of the year is the Midwest Baseball league's annual Christmas party. This starts off with the distribution of magazines to all of the boys, then the drawing of bathrobes and sweaters. There was about one thousand given away. Then at night was the show of shows. It lasted over three hours and could have lasted longer as some of the entertainers didn't get to act. There was radio and movie stars, entertainers from some of the largest night spots in Chicago . Willie Howard, formerly of Ziegfield, the Duke of Paducah, that is on the Bugler Tobacco program on Wednesday night and lots more as you will see from the enclosed program. B. B. Elson who broadcasts the world series and other National sports was also here, he is going to announce the Cotton Bowl game at Dallas this year. All in all if there were only one show no doubt the cover charge would be about $25. That figure was given by one of the men in charge. While the show was going on Santa Claus visited each bed leaving a stocking filled with fruit, candy, tooth brush and paste, shaving cream, talc powder, cracker Jack, and three packages of cigarettes. There is a big week ahead during Christmas.

On being admitted, the first night after supper the Catholic's Chaplain visits each member of his faith. I havent's seen the Protestant Chaplain on the Wards yet. Next morning a representative of the Veterans of Foreign Wars calls on each patient seeing how many members of that organization is here.

On Sunday they have church services for both Catholic and Protestant. Of course at different times.

THE DAY OF WRATH

By HENRY R. LUCE
Editor of Life and Time

This is the day of wrath. The disaster which befell America on Dec. 7, 1941 was an episode. But it was also a sign. It was a sign of all the weakness and wrongness of American life in recent years. The thousand-odd dead at Pearl Harbor that first day were not merely the victims of Japanese treachery. They were the victims also of a weak and faltering America that had lost its way and failed the world in leadership.

We have come to the end, now, of as pusillanimous an epoch as there ever was in the history of a great people: the twenty years of American history between 1921 and 1941. It is not even possible to call these years tragic, for tragedy implies at least the dignity of fate. And there was no dignity in these years and nothing of fate that we did not bring upon ourselves. The epoch that is closing was much less tragic than it was shameful.

The President says we have learned a lesson. Some people think he means that we have learned that the Japanese (as now constituted) are a treacherous and dangerous people. But if that is the only lesson we have learned, then God knows what agonies we shall have to undergo before we learn the lessons we have got to learn.

We will learn. Every American, not excepting Mr. Roosevelt, now faces the deepest necessity of his life—the necessity of learning that he must find a spiritual rebirth or lose his soul alive. "Still stands Thine ancient sacrifice, an humble and a contrite heart." It is not enough for us at home to say: "Okay, let's go!" as if we could forget the past by one easy act of renunciation.

We will learn these things. Looking at the past, we know that we have not been worthy of ourselves—but looking at the future we know that we can and will be a better people than we have been. We know, too, that however we have misused it, we are the principal trustees in this century of a great heritage of human freedom under God. And therefore we must have victory. We must have victory for the faith of our fathers and for the hope of our young people and our children.

We have still at this moment all—or almost all—that is needed for victory. We have, first of all, the young men and young women of America. Despite the meanness of the spiritual environment which we have recently provided them, the strength of this land is in their hearts. We have natural wealth in more abundance than any other nation. We have our American scientists and engineers who stand ready to serve us with their knowledge and their creative toil. We have now, as major allies, Britain and China, two nations bound closer to us by the things of the spirit than any bond that Hitler can forge with terror. We have common military interests with Russia and the chance to build a new bridge between a changing Russia and a changing West. We are seeing Pan-Americanism become a fact not a phrase. We have other allies of deathless gallantry—in conquered countries and elsewhere.

All these are good things, great things. We have others. We have already the example of heroism of our soldiers and sailors in the far islands of the Pacific. We have at home the greatest productive ability and capacity in the world—in many ways a greater ability and capacity than all the rest of the world put together.

What then do we lack? In this first hour of common counsel in an aroused nation, it is necessary to concentrate first on two things. We lack good organization. And we lack unity.

Victory depends on the whole people. But it begins with leadership—for organization begins with leadership. It is no use to have the greatest resources, the best workers and the ablest managers in the world—if resources, workers and managers are not linked together in clear and dynamic organization which provides for both initiative and control.

We are fortunate that we have done what we have done, that many ships are on the ways, that great factories are built and being built, that we have trained fliers and soldiers and sailors. But the fact is that we haven't done enough—nor done this vast job well enough. And the principal reason is that the organization of our war-efforts has not been good. It has been poor.

All that is past. There is no demand for anyone's head. Every man in Washington will be working harder today than he did before Dec. 7—and doing better than he knows how. But it must be insisted that there be no "freezing" of the existing management simply to "save face" or to "spare someone's feelings"—or for political reasons. If some men are not equal to the terrific jobs assigned to them—and there are such—both kindness and patriotism demands that they be given more suitable tasks. If better men can be found—and they can—they must be used.

But quality of personnel—vital though it is—is of less importance than correct organization. Our war effort has not been correctly organized. It must be correctly organized—at once.

And now what about unity? Are we united? Are we resolved? We all say the same hearty, manly-sounding things. What, then, makes our brave words sound a trifle hollow, and our rage carry a slight suggestion of impotence?

JAPS CLOSING IN ON CITY OF MANILA

The picture is very black.

American soldiers are dying by the hundreds this morning in what is described as heroic a defense as warfare has known.

A New York consensus is that the fall of Manila is imminent and with it of course no doubt the Philippine Islands.

The Japanese this morning launched mass tank and infantry attack on Manila and they say they are within 6 to 20 miles of the city in whose harbor Admiral Dewey destroyed the Spanish fleet in 1898.

What every American wants more today than anything in this world is another United States fleet at Manila.

General Douglas MacArthur is readjusting the lines which in reality is a strategic retreat, a bitter term to every American and something that never has heretofore occured. The displacement of the small army of Americans now is disposed eastward facing Manila. There have been losses on both sides and our own communication fixes the ratio of dead as 10 Japanese to 1 American soldier.

North and south of Manila the yellow hordes of the Mikado are strongly massed and thus far the Islands have been without air or naval defense.

The pattern of attack is the German technique with dive bombers blasting the path for Japanese infantry and the Americans without air support are at great disadvantage.

The presence of American air ships over the Philippines Tuesday was cause for optimism among the residents of the Islands but whether this can be taken as an indication that aid is on the way still remains a military secret.

The Japanese are bombing Singapore again and the British say Singapore must be held no matter what the cost. If Singapore should fall the whole far east would be lost because there are no bases available outside Australia.

Joseph Stalin is reported to be on the Crimean front where this morning he gave orders personally to his army to drive the Nazi out of Crimea. If the Germans are driven out of Crimea threat to the near east and the Black Sea will be no more. In Libya the Nazi were fighting back but it was netting them nothing. The British now say the Axis can not be reinforced in North Africa and we may presume that the battle of Libya is over.

Since Hitler took over command of the German army new campaigns have been momentarily expected. Although Germany has suffered tremendous reverses in Russia and in North Africa she is not defeated and before this war is over the world will be in a blood welter the like of which no mind has yet conceived.

Victory Service at Methodist Church

Rev. B. L. Pool, Pastor of First Methodist Church announced at the Rotary Club luncheon Wednesday that a service will be held at his church beginning at 11:05 tonight at which time prayers for victory will be offered.

The public is cordially invited to attend this service because of its importance for spiritual direction under present war conditions.

Power Company Employes Do Good Bond Sales Job

Employes of the Texas Power & Light Company, now devoting one hour each day to the sale Victory Bonds and Stamps, began on Monday.

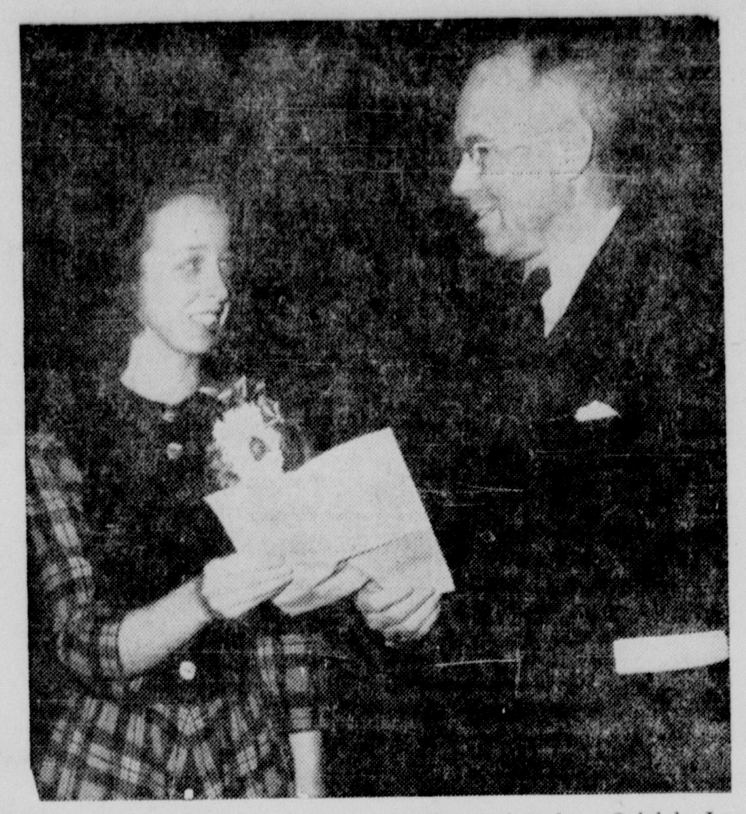
Employes reported ten $25 bonds and five $50 bonds. In addition a total of $117.35 in stamps were sold, making a grand total of $617.35.

This figure was announced by J. Albert Young, District Manager and Mr. Young and his organization are receiving the congratulations of the entire citizenship for their patriotic aid to the war effort.

At a special meeting of the Commissioners' Court this morning, the resignation of Connie Lawson of Thorndale, Constable of Precinct 8, who is accepting a position with the Shell Oil Company. Lonzo Worley of Thorndale was elected to fill his unexpired term.

Miss Maurine Hollas who is a student at Johnson's Beauty Academy in San Antonio is spending the holidays with her parents.

Hope for Better Post-War World



College Station, Dec. 14—A message of hope for a better post-war civilization for the part food will play in achieving that better world was presented to R. M. Evans, national AAA administrator, by Mary Louise Gehring, Baylor University student from Oakdale, La., on behalf of the student body of the University. The occasion was a state-wide Food-for-Freedom rally at Waco attended by farmers from every corner of Texas who heard Evans tell of British needs for American food.

Guests in the R. G. Grabein home for the Christmas holidays were Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Campbell of Ludlow, Mississippi and their daughter Miss Cleone Campbell of Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Olson and children of Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Powell and little daughter Frances and M. M. Brown of Madison, Ala., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rowland and son of West Columbia and Misses Essie and Alice Jones of Bremond.

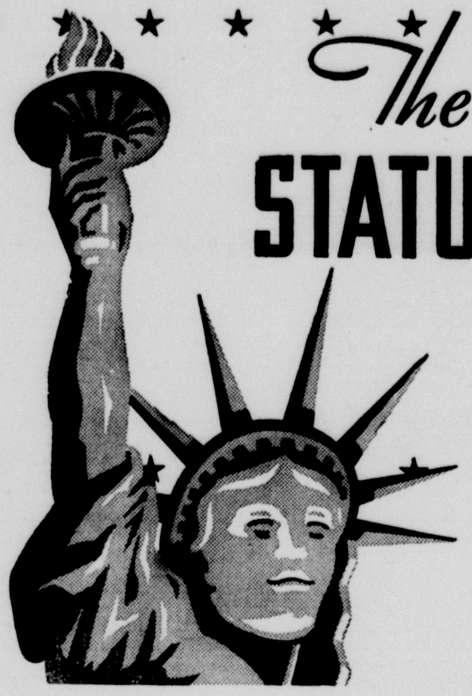
The STATUE OF LIBERTY SPEAKS



RECENTLY, as you probably know, I celebrated my fifty-fifth birthday! If you are a native-born American, this may not have meant much to you. You have—in this case—enjoyed the blessings of liberty ALL your life. You have never known what it means NOT to be free. Since you were a child, so long as you haven't interfered with the rights of others, you have thought what you pleased, said what you pleased, done what you pleased.

You have gone to the church of your own choosing, followed the vocation that appealed to you, read or listened to whatever suited your fancy. You have had the right to own your own business, your own farm, your own home.

On election days you have voted a secret ballot, had your "say" in selecting your public officials—from the lowest to the highest. You have had the right to protection from unjust search and seizure; you have had the right to peaceably assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances; you have had the benefits of the fairest and most independent judicial system on earth. You also have had use of the finest public schools, the finest public parks, the finest public libraries!

More than any individual who ever lived outside this country, you have had the privilege of living your OWN life in your OWN way. Yet, just because these liberties and these privileges have been so commonplace, so ordinary, you have probably never fully appreciated all the sacrifices that were made to give them to you. You have taken them for granted; assumed you would ALWAYS have them.

Let me tell you something.

For well over half a century I have looked across the sea to the troubled lands of Europe. I have seen the peoples of almost every nation on that continent engaged in the age-old struggle for freedom. And, as I have watched their brave efforts, I have wondered if we—in FREE AMERICA—have realized that thousands of generations of men and women in other countries have fought, bled and often died in vain attempts to secure for themselves the very liberties that WE possess.

I Have Done a Lot of Thinking

The people of France understood these things. That is why, though almost crushed by the five billion franc indemnity imposed upon them by Germany as a result of the Franco-Prussian War, they dug down in their jeans to provide the money required for MY construction. Finally, on the day I was unveiled on Bedloe's Island, all humanity rejoiced. Just the knowledge that I was there—welcoming those of the Old World to the freedom and opportunities of the New World—renewed the faith and hope of the downtrodden people of every land.

Holding my torch of liberty three hundred feet high, I have been acclaimed the most soul-stirring sight in all the world. Of course, it is not for me to say that this is true. But I do know that—since my dedication on October 28, 1886—over twenty-six million men, women and children have come to me from across the sea. I know, too, that millions of these people have gone down on their knees and thanked God when they first gazed upon my upraised torch.

"Liberty Enlightening the World!" That is my official name. But today I am more, even, than that. I am the one beacon that MUST be kept burning, whatever the cost may be. Make no mistake about that. If I, too, go out, the light of the world dies with me. Not in a thousand years will liberty be regained as WE have known it.

In recent years, I have done a lot of thinking. As I have looked across the oceans, I have seen nation after nation crumble and fall. I have seen tens of millions of people become once again enslaved. I have wished that there were some way in which I could turn around, FACE my own country and my own people, and implore them to read aright the lesson of the conquered nations. And I have wondered if—when the time came—a UNITED America would be ready and eager to protect the freedoms I represent.

Now I Know!

The time HAS come—and now I know! America IS united for victory! President Roosevelt, on the day that Congress declared war, spoke for you and for me when he said:

"No matter how long it may take . . . the American people, in their righteous might, will win through to absolute victory."

Fight on, America! Youngest, greatest, strongest of all the nations, fight on to stem the tide of tyranny and relight the fires of liberty in every corner of this earth!

Hold high my torch of Faith and Courage. Keep my light of liberty burning. Today—more than ever before—I am the hope of the world!

—THE STATUE OF LIBERTY.

The treatment here is the best. The largest hospital in the Veterans Administration. About 1700 patients are here at the present time. Mr. Gilliland from Tracy is here. We were on the same ward for a while. He seems to be doing o. k. We have very pleasant visits with each other. The whole state of Texas is well represented. A patient from Janeau, Alaska came in the day I did.

W. C. (Bud) Tucker lives here and came out to see me. Pat Driscoll, Jr., from Burlington was out yesterday and will be back Christmas day if possible. I will go to the city with him for a few hours.

I think the War Veterans are very fortunate in having places like this to go to when sickness overtakes them. The entire staff tries to make our stay as pleasant as possible. All they ask is our co-operation. Besides the hospital staff the Veteran Organizations, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Disabled Veterans and all the Auxiliaries do everything they can, always distributing gifts of some kind.

Don't know how much longer I will be here, but hope to be home soon, after all mathless Milam is not only a good place to be from, but a good place to go back to.

Wishing each and everyone a Merry Christmas and a Prosperous New Year, I am,

Sincerely,
EMMETT STREETMAN.

THE DAY OF WRATH

What we lack, still, is a brave acceptance of our terrible reality. We demand victory, but the price of it, in risk, hardship, pain, adventure, is not yet clear to us. The high resolve is yet to come to us that it would be better to leave America a heap of smoking stones than surrender it to the mechanized medievalism which is the Mikado or to the anti-Christ which is Hitler.

This lack of resolve is not surprising. The actual destruction of the American nation by a force outside has seemed fantastic. But it is not fantastic now. It could happen. And America will never win this war against the forces of evil until Americans in every walk of life are gripped at the throat by the realization that we can lose the war. For three years we have been losing it. When we realize that—then, only then, our own righteous fury will be unloosed.

We must cultivate that realization, and all the resolves that go with it. For the day is not coming; the day is come. It is the day we have all dreaded, yet known in our secret hearts it was our inescapable duty to meet when the world attack on freedom finally came home to us.

This is the day of wrath. It is also the day of hope. For this is the day that Churchill described to the people of Britain in their own blackest hour: the day when "the New World, with all its power and might, steps forth to the rescue and the liberation of the old." Now at last the issue is inexorably joined: either our ideals as free men shall dominate in this century, or the pitiless bayonets of our enemies will.

We have lost something of our power and might. But now at last our battleground is the whole world. The whole world is now our battle-stake. What we have temporarily lost in might we will gain forever in vision and resolve.

For this hour America was made. Uniquely among the nations, America was created out of the hopes of mankind and dedicated to the fulfillment of those hopes. It is for this reason that we accept only two alternatives—either to die in the smoking ruins of a totally destroyed America or else to justify forever he faith of our fathers and the hopes of mankind.

Years ago Woodrow Wilson begged us not to "break the great heart of the world." We go forth now from a half-beleaguered continent to join hands with all men everywhere and by our character and our deeds to write with them the happy and triumphant songs of a new world.

These are brave words, brave resolves. If our 130 million people truly believe them, no combination of our enemies or their resources, nor any hazards of war, can cheat us of victory.

There is terrible fighting to be done. Every true American will rise to take military arms or civilian action to seize conclusive victory.

There is terrible figthing to be done. All of us will be in the fight—men, women and children, for this is indeed total war. But let us never forget that the hardest figthing is done at the front by our soldiers and sailors.

We have fighting men in the field and on the high seas. Thousands of soldiers and sailors in the Pacific are at this very hour facing death. We tell ourselves how young they are, how gallant, how brave. We salute with our hearts in our throats, tears in our eyes—pray for them too. But also—day after day we must be asking ourselves how good a chance we here at home are giving them to fight and live on. Are we straining every last nerve to see that help, arms, material reach them as soon as possible? If they die (or thousands more like them in the long hard days to come) will they die through any fault of ours?

Democracies are always "inefficient," are they? Then let's get it said: This inefficiency cherished in times of war, is another word for manslaughter, if not murder. To the extent that we coddle it from here out in ourselves, in high places or low, we're making our own soldiers in the field the cannon fodder of a barbarous and indecent complacency.

In the great fog of battle, we cannot see our soldiers, where they fight or how. We know they fight with every ounce of guts a good American has. And that's plenty. But as we cannot see them in the fog of battle, they cannot see us. When the fog lifts, in the days to come, let us see to it that they look upon us, here at home, and can say as honestly to us as we say to them, "Good going, boys." That will be the day of victory and of peace in our hearts.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"God" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 4, 1942.

The Golden Text is: "To the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, diminion and power, both now and ever." (Jude 1:25.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Hear, O Israel: The Lord our God is one Lord: And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might." (Deuteronomy 6:4, 5.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "As there is in reality but one God, one Mind, wrong notions about God must have originated in a false supposition, not in immortal Truth, and they are fading out." (Page 357.)

Well, Christmas services are over, but it is our hope that the Christmas spirit will linger long. Our pageant the "Empty Room" was well attended. The first presentation was to a packed house and the last from 8:15 to 8:10 was to a good size congregation. Bro. Pool and I agreed that many Baptists and Methodists were still talking Christmas Sunday. Our Sunday School attendance was only 231, Training Union was 81, and offering was $93.95. A short Sunday if you ask me.

Friday night a cast composed of our local members will present in the Burlington Baptist Church, the play entitled "Poor As Church Mice.' This will be a great service and we urge all in the vicinity of Burlington to be present

Start the New Year right. We want you in Sunday School and Church. If you praise God for all that is past and trust Him for all that is to come, and not providentially hindered we will see you in church Sunday.

HAVE SUNK 20 SHIPS SINCE WAR OPENED

The Allied cause in the far east Monday had reason to be thankful to the Dutch.

So far no help had come to small American forces fighting in the Philipines under General Douglas MacArthur.

The Dutch were there in good turns against the Japs. Somehow they had managed to get hold of a few bombing planes before the war They are using them.

The Netherlands is a small country. Here in the United States where we have billions in natural wealth the country for the moment was unable to do anything about the Japanese invasion of the Philippines.

Although the Congress of the United States has appropriated more than 70 billion dollars for so called national defense, at no place on the far flung battle line was there any activity on the part of American bombers or fighting craft.

America spent billions of dollars raking leaves in Central Park in New York and other similar activities but didn't build a plane nor a ship.

The Dutch Monday had shot down 2 Japanese planes and have sunk some 20 Japanese ships since the war began. Monday they had also set fire to a Japanese cruiser.

General MacArthur was concentrating his small army and preparing for the inevitable as the Japs continued to reinforce their position in Luzon and are attempting to surround Singapore in Malaya.

A United States submarine has sunk one Japanese trasport and a supply ship somewhere in the Pacific.

The situation in the Philippines is very desperate and unless help is sent they will be taken by the Japs.

Power Employes to Devote Hour Each Day to Sell Bonds

Employees of the Texas Power & Light Co., will devote one hour each day to the sale of victory bonds and stamps, it was announced here Monday by J. Albert Young, District Manager.

Mr. Young said that the Company and its employees is arranging to contribute as much as possible to the war effort by devoting this time to the sale of securities.

Mr. Young is also arranging a display on use of the flag which he hopes to have ready very soon.

Those who have flags to display and who have no way to display them may call the Texas Power & Light Co., and the side walk stalls will be put in free provided the flag owners will secure a small piece of pipe to be put in the hole after the Company has chiseled through the cement.

This is a very fine gesture on the part of Mr. Young and his Company and no doubt the American Legion will be blad to make a canvas to determine how much of this work is to be done.

"We Will Retaliate" Says Gen. MacArthur

"We will retaliate," said General Dauglas MacArthur, commander of the badly outnumbered American forces in the Philippines.

General Mac Arthur made it plain that the American command has no intention of letting the Japs off for their barbarism in the far east which culminated in the bombing of Manila.

Although the American government is without any immediate means for retaliation, in time, said General MacArthur the Japs will be made to pay.

HELP MAY BE NEAR FOR AMERICAN ARMY

American fighter and bombing planes were over the Philippines early Tuesday.

The planes put in their appearance as the picture became black over continued Japanese successes and the people of the Islands and in the bombed city of Manila were cheered as the insigna of the American fighters, Navy and Army, hove in sight through a sky that has known only the hated Japs.

The appearance of the planes was not announced in any of the army communications. That was not expected.

If the report which came from Western Luzon is true it might indicate that help is at last getting to the Islands.

There was no Jap bombings of Manila for the day.

Seasoned Japanese troops were making progress against the Americans. Japanese armies continued to land. The plight of the Americans was admittedly very grave.

General MacArthur has shortened his lines for a last stand and pledged that every man would fight to the last. MacArthur is a tough general and a hero of World War No. 1.

On the whole the war situation was brighter for America.

Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Japs Attacking Big Base of Singapore

Japanese bombing planes have begun an assault on Singapore.

The great British Base at the end of the Malay Plninsula is the gateway to the Indian ocean and if lost the entire East will have been taken by Japan.

This morning bombing planes were over the city. Last night the Jap bombers were kept at respectful distances by anti-aircraft guns and search lights.

Little actual military damage was done but there was some loss of life.
